Arrival of the Caledonia at Boston. Stranding of the Great Britain Steamship—Safety of the Passengers.

The Produce market was buoyant, and prices tolerably firm.

In the Cotton market there had been large sales at firm prices.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, by order of the Privy Council, had issued a form of prayer for relief from threatened famine.

The Continental news was unimportant.

The miles in the Royal William Victualling Yard, at Plymouth, are immediately to commence grinding, night and day, Indian corn, for the supply of the distressed Irish. It is expected they will perform about 80 qrs., or about 38,000 lbs. of oil per day.

Loss of the Great Briton.

The large packet steamship left Liverpool on the 22d ult., at 11 o'clock, and ran ashore on the coast of Ireland in less than twelve hours afterwards, during a heavy blow from the south-east. She had 125 passengers on board—all of whom, we rejoice to say, were saved. Mr. W. M. of the Liverpool European Times, proceeded at once to the scene of the disaster, and soon as the news reached Liverpool, and publishes the following particulars:

"We reached Dunrund Bay on the 27th, and found the Great Briton high up, about 300 yards from, and lying parallel with, the shore at high water mark. At spring-tide she had drifted inward about one hundred feet, since the night she struck, but had not sustained any damage beyond the loss of herudder, which is now entirely cut away, and her steerage, uninjured, and in working order. Walking completely round, you see her lying on a bed of sand, under which a few feet deep, are solid rocks. She has evidently, after she first took the ground, run several of her own length into the sand, and is now apparently embedded some five or six feet, so it appears, and this seems to be the prevailing opinion, with almost every one in the neighborhood, extremely doubtful whether she will ever be got off."

"She had on board 1000 tons of coal, 60 tons of freight, and 100 tons of water, which have been removed prior to the next springs, which commenced on the 3d inst. She now lies between the coast guard house and the Cow and Calf Rocks. She must have passed near the latter, which is only to be seen at low water, and are situated in a great depth of water, upon which, had she struck, she must have gone down, and perhaps every soul have perished. There are now no other very dangerous breakers, extending a long distance, immediately where she struck, which would destroy any ship that is unfortunate enough to strike them. Shortly after our arrival all the freight, with the exception of some tea bales, were removed to the Liverpool steam tug Dreadnought, for shipment by the Caledonia."

COURT COURIER.

District Court.

The Court, since Saturday last have been engaged in the trial of indictment against the city of Bangor, found last term, for negligently and carelessly leaving the reservoir at the head of Wall Street, open and exposed while in the process of completion, in Aug. 1845, whereby one Nathan C. White in passing in the night time, along the street fell in and received an injury which afterwards caused his death. The indictment was found under the provision of the Revised Statutes, that "if the life of any person shall be lost through any defect in a highway the town or city liable to keep such highway in repair shall forfeit a sum not exceeding $1000, to be paid to the administrator of the deceased for the use of his heirs."

A large amount of testimony was introduced showing the nature of the defect, the state in which the reservoir was left on the night of the accident and the nature of the injury received by White. The case was submitted on Wednesday afternoon to the Jury who returned a verdict of guilty. Several questions of law were raised, and exceptions to the ruling of the court on the question of admissibility of testimony have been made, and the case will go up to the Supreme Court for decision. Waterhouse, Co. Attorney, and Ingersoll, for State—Wakefield, City Solicitor, for respondent.

The Courts are now engaged in the trial of Daniel Foster for robbing Gilman's Express August last—Kent and Cutting for dft.

ELECTIONS.

The Whigs of Ohio Victorious!!!

The Whig State Central Committee at Columbus state that sufficient returns are in to make it certain that the Whigs have elected their Governor by a majority not far from 3000, they have carried both branches of the Legislature, and have gained four Congressmen. Thus have the freemen of Ohio repudiated those that were in favor of repealing our just and equitable Revenue System, and rejected the hard money doctrine of the self-styled Democratic Party, and repudiated those who would tarnish the honor and bring disgrace of repudiation upon the State.

Of members of Congress the Whigs have 12. Locos 8, Independent 1. Whig gain 4. The last representation from Ohio stood 8 Whigs to 3 Locos.

In the State Senate the Whigs have four majority.

The House consists of 72 members.

So far we have heard of the election of 39 Whig members, and 26 Locos leaving 7 to be heard from which last year divided 4 Whigs and 3 Locos. This ensures a Whig majority in each House, and a joint ballot.

The Ohio Statesman, (Loco) of Friday says—

"The Great Britain remains in nearly the same state. She is leaking a little more water. The pumps were working nearly all day yesterday. They have got the cargo out, and are now discharging the coals on the beach. There are two small vessels here, should Monday be fine, they will try to take her off at high tide. A most vigorous attempt will be made on the 5th inst. to get her afloat."

The Banker's Circular, states—The spread of the cholera disease has been signally arrested, and a much larger proportion of the crop of potatoes in Great Britain, and we suspect also in Ireland, will, we trust, be preserved, than any man dared hope a few weeks ago."

Germany.

In consequence of the severity of the last harvest, large orders have been sent out to the United States for different descriptions of grain. Some charitable private individuals at Cologne, and other large towns, have sent for grain on their own account; but I have the intention of distributing it at the cost price.

The Russian Government is about to establish a new newspaper to defend it from the attacks of other German newspapers. It already keeps up the Gazette at an expense of 70,000 thalers per annum.

The German Diet proposes to purchase the secret for making gunpowder from cotton, leaving however to the ministers the right to take out patents in foreign countries. Communications have already been received from the United States expressing a desire that the invention may immediately be introduced there.

From the East.

The Express in advance of the Overland mail, reached London on the 3d instant, bringing Bombay dates to August 27th. The news from India shows that preparations are making on both sides for fresh collisions, but no new events had taken place. It was rumored that Sir Charles Napier was about to return on account of ill health.

The preceding mail arrived on the 23d ult., bringing China dates to July 25th. On the 8th of July some English merchants and others for some time came into collision with the populace of Canton, and were driven into the factories. They fired upon the Chinese, killing four and wounding twelve. It does not appear that any but Chinese were injured. The authorities on both sides had taken up the matter.

Locofocoism in Mass.

We learn from Concord, that the locofoco movement, on Thursday exhibited the horridness of its den'socracy in a most diabolical mass. A certain George Barstow, who has been suspected of chid-predication, was there, and made a short speech, which did not please the truth-tumult, but to conciliate him, they put him on the platform for drafting results. After the committee had ratified their vent and dried resolutions, Mr. Barstow, pulled from his pocket a tremendous long string of resolutions, so seconded up with abolitionism that the slave democracy were in a towering passion! These resolutions he moved as a substitute, and made some talk upon them. When he had got through, Frank Pierce mounted the rostrum, with his teeth clenched, and every hair upon his head standing erect, like a raven, upon the treacherous porcupine, and fled away in a mad flight. Barstow was then loudly called for. He was on the point of responding when Mr. Atherton stepped up and claimed the ear of the audience, and at the close of our press conference, he was having his say about that, and the like. The locofoco from this v. l. cargo came home "mad as March hares."

[Nashua Telegraph]
A correspondent of the Boston Post says that Mr. Barstow's omniscient resolutions were laid on the table, "by a due voting vote." The party which rejected them will be laid under the table by a similar vote next March.

Christianity planted in Egypt.

A London correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer communicates the fact that a Christian church was about to be erected in the Land of Egypt, "a land where the light of divine truth, more than three thousand years ago, shone just enough to reveal its utter darkness, and where, but since and a long time previous, vegetables and reptiles, stars which gem up the canopy, as well as sun and moon, have been adored, instead of the great Creator he says—

"Among the wonders of modern Egypt—that is to a contemplative mind, though often opposite in their nature and character—comes these stupendous works of the olden time—wonders, to which all owe their creation to the old man himself the greatest wonder of all—Mahomet Ali—among them has been a splendid Protestant Christian Church, now in progress of erection in the most opulent portion of the Frank quarter of Alexandria. The following is the enumeration of European persons whose fixed or occasional residence made such a structure necessary. In 1845, permanent residents 107, travellers in transit, 2200, ship's crews 1200, tourists, 166, total 600. By an act of Parliament, where British subjects should raise one-half of the cost of a church, the government will contribute the same amount, and the clergyman will be Episcopalian or Presbyter, according to the majority of those for whom the church is intended. In case the majority here Episcopalian, the clergyman was licensed by the Bishop of London. The building is dedicated to St. Mark, and is the first Christian edifice in that region in modern times."

Indian Sagacity.

A white man and an Indian, "once upon a time," were hunting together. The fruits of their joint sport was a turkey and a buzzard. On separating, the white man proposed to divide the plunder, remarking to his red brother, you may take the buzzard, and I'll take the turkey; or I'll take the turkey and you can take the buzzard."

"Who and the Indian, with great surprise you never said Turkey to me once."

The Banker's Circular, states—The spread of the cholera disease has been signally arrested, and a much larger proportion of the crop of potatoes in Great Britain, and we suspect also in Ireland, will, we trust, be preserved, than any man dared hope a few weeks ago."

Ireland.

The sufferings of the poor people in Ireland, and the calamities consequent upon them, are represented as very great. The Government were making efforts to alleviate the sufferings of the poor, but fearful riots have occurred, and some collisions have ensued between the militia and the starving peasants. In Donegal, there was a mob of 10 or 12 thousand—who attacked the merchants' stores, and were driven off only by the dragoons firing on them.

The O'Connell and Young Ireland parties met to deliberate on the subject of bringing about a repeal of the Union.

We are indebted to Lews Hacock, Esq., for the loan of a copy of the European Times of Oct. 4 from which we extract the following:

Nathan Clifford, Esq., the newly appointed Attorney General of the United States, has consented upon the discharge of his official duties, to officially associate to the "Union."

The Largest Painting in the World.

Mr. John Bonnard, an artist of Louisville has conceived and executed the idea of painting the panorama of the Mississippi River from N Orleans to its head waters. It is an immense painting covering more than three miles of canvas. One of the Louisville papers thus speaks of the painting:

"Our citizens are just beginning to find out that this most magnificent painting has been executed by one of their own number. Mr. Bonnard has been silently and industriously prosecuting his great project of painting the great father of waters with its beautiful and romantic scenery. The painting is fixed on rollers.

The canvas moves slowly along, bringing before the spectator the sweet-savory portions of the mighty stream. To those who have not navigated the Mississippi, the exhibition is almost as good as a trip on one of our steamers to the sunny South. To those familiar with the river, it possesses an absorbing interest. We noticed several river men in the crowd who are as familiar with the Mississippi as their own native hearths. They were highly delighted, as one well known object after another showed itself. "That is excellent,—that's very well done," were common ejaculations—now and then we heard a slight criticism, or a notice of the absence of some object they recalled.

JACKSON'S

Pile Embrocation.

TESTIMONY!

Bangor, Oct 5th, 1846.

MESSRS. HALL & YOUNG—

A few weeks since I called at your shop and bought one bottle of Dr Jackson's Pile Embrocation. As I then bought with considerable hesitation not knowing what it was more of a humbug than anything else, I deem it my duty, as one dreadful sufferer, relieved, and finally cured by its use, to inform you in a public manner of my entire approbation of the medicine, and sincerely hope that others may be similarly relieved. A good application for the piles has long been a desideratum, and I have never met with any thing so remarkable in its curative properties, as the above medicine procured of you. Yours very respectfully
